

ENTRYS

After being wounded in Vietnam, nineteen-year-old Rico Divina is sent home to a string of low-paying jobs and shabby apartments while trying to cope with the demons inside him. As an Indipino (half Yakima, half Filipino), Rico has come up against obstacles all his life--those of race, culture, nationality, and...

Reader's Opinions

A book about a Filipino & white American man who goes to Vietnam and starts writing "entries" with horrible grammar. He learns standard spelling and grammar too quickly to be believed, then does a series of jobs and girlfriends. The girlfriends seemed to be plot devices to explore aspects of his character, which I didn't like. I thought...

Another college read! This unreliable narrator piece explores a young man who has a mixed race identity who goes on an exploration to find out who he is after leaving the army. It's a pretty twisted journey, as the narrator's perspective is all told through journal entries while other reports begin to draw inconsistencies. It's a fascinating...
